PLAN CAMPAIGN OF MISSIONARY EDUCATION WORK

Pastors And Missionary Committees Will Get Busy.

As Result of Two Days' Conference It Is Decided To Push Every Member Canvass, Have Special Sermons by Pastors and Addresses by Laymen and To Hold Anniversary Service Next January—Also Decided To Put Secretary in Field—Closing Session of Conference.

As a result of the two days' conference of pastors and missionary committees held in this city, which closed last night, it has been decided to push the every member canvass with the view of enlisting every church member in the city in foreign mission work and to conduct a large amount of educational work between the present time and the first of the year, when it is planned to hold an anniversary conference. It was also decided last night to put a secretary in the field, nearly $600 having already been subscribed for this work.

As was announced yesterday morning the subject last night was "The Best Method of Missionary Education." This was taken up and a large number of the laymen and pastors present made suggestions as to the things a member of a missionary committee should know in order that he can do the work assigned him. After a short discussion Mr. J. Campbell White called on Mr. C. H. Pratt to take charge and he brought out many interesting facts, these coming largely from the men present. The work this year is one of education. Mr. Pratt said, we must make this work more productive than the work of last year. He compared the work of the great conference as with the fallowing of ground preparatory to the planting of the crop, the educational work being likened to the tilling of the soil after the crop has been planted in order to secure the largest possible yield. We have got to get this matter wedded into the heart and life of the church if we would make it a success, he said. He took up the matter of holding monthly missionary meetings and after a discussion practically every one present agreed to endeavor to convert one prayer meeting each month into a missionary meeting. It was also decided to try to organize mission study classes and to hold quarterly meetings conducted by laymen in all the churches. He then took up the several kinds of literature to be used and many suggestions were made. Mr. Pratt urged that each church patronize the church publication and also use "Men and Missions."

It was pointed out by one of the laymen that one of the fundamental principles in the work is that one must be acquainted with the subject he is speaking about and must have the conviction that what he is saying is true. Another great principle is that of prayer. Another thing was that he must practice what he preaches. Then the use of charts is a great advantage for, said Mr. White, men are taught a great deal through the eye. The charts and maps carried by the workers were suggested as a forcible means of enlightening the people.

The executive committee here made its report, which was unanimously adopted. Mr. Sam Browne suggested that it would be a good idea to have several laymen go from here to nearby towns to tell the laymen of those churches what had been learned during the conference here. Mr. White then spoke a few words of encouragement to the workers, laying especial stress on the importance of everyone going about the work prayerfully. The conference was closed with a brief prayer by Mr. White.

The report of the executive committee follows: "The Conference of Pastors and Missionary-Committee Men to the number of nearly one hundred, assembled for the consideration of the best methods of deepening and extending the missionary spirit among our churches, record our deep gratitude to God for his signal blessing upon our efforts during the past year and solemnly resolve to continue the work as God may give us wisdom and strength.

At the Laymen's Missionary Conference in Greensboro last January led to an increase in the subscriptions of our churches to Foreign Missions work from $7,304 per year to over $20,000 per year, or from an average of $1.20 per church member to an average of $3.28 per member. Alongside of this nearly trebling of the offering to this work there has been splendid increase in the contributions to various other causes. We believe that the Laymen's Missionary Conference also prepared the way for the remarkable success of the canvass for a new Y. M. C. A. building in Greensboro, for which $65,000 was subscribed within a single week. This one object has thus secured more than three times the total amount contributed by our churches for Foreign Missions annually, and illustrates afresh the principle that with an enlarged missionary spirit every Christian enterprise is substantially benefited. In view of the fact that the churches of Greensboro expend annually for Christian work in America about $100,000, we reiterate our conviction expressed at the convention that their contributions to the evangelization of the vast non-Christian world should be still further increased until they are equal at least to one-fourth of the total amount contributed for all church purposes.

"We find on careful examination that even now, after the special efforts of the past year, not over 60 per cent. of our church members are systematic contributors to the work of missions. For the sake of our church members themselves, as well as for the sake of Christ and the needy world, we believe that our efforts should be earnestly and prayerfully directed to securing definite subscriptions from the remaining 40 per cent. of our church members, together with as many adherents of our congregations as can be enlisted. We call very serious attention to what we regard as a great and fundamental mistake, viz: for the heads of families to subscribe for their whole families, instead of each member of the family being led to make a definite personal subscription, to the work of evangelizing the world. The grace of giving and the habit of giving should be cultivated and developed in every individual life. This grace and this habit can be developed far more easily in childhood and youth than in maturer years. We therefore set before ourselves the purpose of enlisting absolutely the whole church membership as individual, systematic and proportionate givers according to the Scriptural principles enunciated in 1 Corinthians 16:2.

"Out of our experience during the past year, we desire to endorse strongly the characteristic features of the Standard Missionary church as emphasized by the Laymen's Missionary Movement, viz:

1. A missionary pastor.
2. A missionary committee.
3. A missionary Sunday school.
4. A program of prayer for missions.
5. Systematic missionary education.
6. An every-member canvass for missions.
7. The weekly offering for missions.
8. An immediate working policy, we recommend

"(1) That a serious attempt be made by the missionary committees of all our churches to complete their canvass for individual subscriptions to missions, with the definite aim of enlisting every member as a subscriber.

"(2) That as a preparation for this work, a farther campaign of education be conducted in all our churches, before the anniversary of the convention in 1911, including sermons by pastors, interchange of pulpits where practicable, public addresses by laymen, midweek services for conference and prayer, distribution of literature, etc.

"(3) That this conference recommends most earnestly to men the mission study class method of becoming informed about missions, and undertake to organize at once as many men's mission study classes as possible.

"(4) That we emphasize anew the importance of each missionary committee spending one evening every month in the prayerful discussion of the work, including not only the missionary finances of the congregation, but the promotion of missionary intelligence and habitual prayer for missions among the whole church membership.

"(5) That three times a year, at times to be selected by the executive committee of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, a conference be arranged of all pastors and missionary committees, with carefully arranged programs, for discussion and prayer concerning the supremely important interests committed to our leadership.

"(6) That a suitable anniversary of the great convention of last January be arranged by the executive committee.

"(7) That an executive secretary be employed to assist in extending the methods and spirit of this movement in North Carolina, and that at least $600 be contributed by Greensboro to the support of this extension work, the hope being that other cities will join in making the work continuous for at least one year."

The Pastor's Conference. At the pastor's conference yesterday afternoon the chief topic for discussion was regarding the kind of literature the pastor should read in order to better equip himself in the work of furthering the cause of missions. There was a general discussion in which practically every pastor took part, some suggesting the best books on the subject and other suggesting other ways of educating the ministers in this work. Before the meeting closed the following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the ministers:

"That we, the ministers who have been identified with the work of the Laymen's Movement from its beginning in this State; who have followed closely the development and have seen the results of this movement in the lives of individuals and in our church life, wish with the utmost emphasis possible to declare that the fears entertained by some that the Laymen's Movement will impair the influence of the ministry and tend to supplant the minister in his legitimate sphere of activity are without foundation and not warranted by the facts ascertained by our experience. On the other hand we believe that the full and more perfect development of lay activity is at once one of the chief aims of the church's life on earth and the greatest present need. We further assert our conviction that the Laymen's Movement is one of the best means that we know of to reinforce the efforts of the minister in accomplishing this end."

ENJOYABLE SOCIAL GATHERING.

Ladies' Aid Society of Friends' Meeting At Home To Westminster Ladies.

Yesterday afternoon in the Bible school rooms of the Friends' meeting house, Asheville street, the Woman's Missionary and Aid Society of the Westminster Presbyterian church as an expression of appreciation of the hospitality extended the Society of Friends when they were without a home by Westminster church.

Golden rod and autumn leaves and a number of beautiful mountain beauty roses were used in decorating the rooms for the occasion, this being under the direction of Mrs. S. A. Hodgkin.

Mrs. Priscilla B. Hackney, president of the society, greeted the guests at the door and ushered them into the rooms. Here a delightful program was carried out, consisting of songs and a study of South American missionary work. This was most interesting.

Each guest was made to feel perfectly at home and the event proved to be a most enjoyable one to each one present to partake of the hospitality of the ladies.

Following the regular program refreshments, consisting of cream, cake and coffee, were served.

BOYS' EXHIBITION.

Interesting Affair To Be Held At Library In November.

The public library will have an exhibition of a novel variety early in November—one that will be open to all ages as visitors, but only boys from 10 to 16 years old will be invited to contribute exhibits.

These exhibits will consist of collections of various kinds owned by boys such as minerals, natural history, Indian curios, etc., and also of articles made by boys, the latter to include among other things any piece of scientific apparatus which they have been able to construct. Boys interested are asked to call at the library for further explanation and as soon as plans are in definite shape prizes will be offered by several friends of the enterprise.

The committee in charge of the exhibition will be: Mr. E. P. Wharton, chairman; Prof. W. C. A. Hammel, Mr. A. T. Vernon, Mr. J. W. Armfield, Miss Bettie Caldwell.

Dedication Deferred.

The new Lutheran church at Burlington will be dedicated on the fourth Sunday of October, instead of the second Sunday as previously announced.

ERADICATION OF HOOKWORM

Educational Crusade Against Disease.

County Medical Society Tenders Services To Superintendent of Education In Work—Hearty Co-Operation of County Teachers Pledged by Supt. Foust—Able Discussion of Disease by Medical Men Yesterday Afternoon.

Hookworm was the subject for discussion at yesterday's meeting of the Guilford County Medical Society and for more than two hours the disease was discussed from all viewpoints. In addition to the members of the society there were present a number of prominent citizens, including Messrs. Sternberger, Caesar Cone, Prof. T. R. Foust, and a number of the teachers. The session proved quite interesting and all present, even the laymen, gleaned a store of information that will no doubt prove useful to each one in the future.

As a result of the meeting County Superintendent of Education Thos. R. Foust pledged the hearty co-operation of the public schools of the county in the work of eradicating the disease and the medical society by a unanimous vote proffered the services of each member to Prof. Foust to visit the schools, make lectures at any of the schools and to examine any of the children if necessary. This means that from now on there will be a vigorous crusade against this disease throughout the entire county by educating the people to the necessity of ridding the county of this infection that is sapping the energies of a fourth of the citizenship, according to carefully collected statistics. Already this educational wave has been commenced as will be seen from a letter being sent out by Supt. Foust and there is no doubt but that great good will result.

Dr. John A. Ferrell, assistant secretary of the state board of health for the eradication of the hookworm disease, was the first speaker and before delivering his stereopticon lecture made a short address in which he outlined the causes of the disease, the manner in which the body becomes affected by the disease, some of the symptoms and the cure and prevention of the disease. Four waves are spreading over our state, he said. The first, the wave of education, began when Aycock was elected governor. Then there was the wave of temperance and the wave of good roads building. Then came the wave of health and sanitation. While all of the waves were productive of great good and their effects are being felt more and more each day, he said, the wave of health and sanitation, in his mind, would be productive of more good than any of the other three. He then pointed out the fact that the hookworm disease has been discovered in all but two counties in the State and these two have not yet been entered. He spoke of the work already done by the Rockefeller commission and what it hoped to do in the future. A number of slides were used in the stereopticon, showing the worms and eggs in various phases and situations. The lecture was thoroughly entertaining as well as instructive.

Dr. G. F. Ross, of Greensboro, read a paper on "Symptoms, Diagnosis and Treatment of Hookworm," which was heard with interest. He had four subjects before the society and the effects of the disease was plainly visible to the trained eye. In one case even a layman could discern something radically wrong with the patient.

"Personal Observation of Hookworm Disease in Richmond County," was the subject of a paper by Dr. W. F. Cole, of this city, and this was quite instructive, the physician citing a number of cases that had come under his care during his professional career.

Dr. C. S. Grayson, of this city, read a paper on "The Significance of Hookworm Disease." He pointed out among other things that hookworm augments other diseases, especially mentioning typhoid, pellagra and tuberculosis. The disease does more harm in the South than the cotton boll weevil, he said, taking the question from a viewpoint of dollars and cents. He caused an uproar when he said: "Why is it that the South has had no presidential timber for the past several years? It is because the timber is wormeaten."

Then followed a round table discussion, led by Dr. W. P. Beall. He pointed out the fact that the people have got to be educated to the fact that there is such a thing as hookworm; that many yet hoot at the idea. In this work the country school teacher and the country doctor have got to act as missionaries, he said. Mr. Caesar Cone was called on and he said that he had learned many things regarding the disease by coming to the meeting and he was sincerely glad he had been given an invitation. Everyone should feel an interest in the eradication of the disease, he said, not only from the standpoint of humanitarianism but from a business standpoint as well. Prof. Thos. R. Foust made a short talk telling of what the Board of Education was already doing and what it proposed to do. He pledged the hearty support of the county teachers. Dr. M. F. Fox thought a physician should be deputized to visit the schools with the county superintendent. Father Vincent Taylor thought it would be wise to enlist the aid of the ministers.

Before adjournment it was moved that the members of the society tender their services to Prof. Foust as stated above.

Following the meeting the nurses of St. Leo's Hospital served a delightful luncheon to the doctors and visitors.

At the next meeting of the society in November "Well Water" will be the subject discussed. In December "Pelagra" will be the subject.

PLEA FOR MORE LIBERAL GIVING TO FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Able Address By J. Campbell White Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church J. Campbell White, secretary of the Laymen's Movement, delivered an impassioned appeal in behalf of more liberal giving to foreign missions. He was introduced by Rev. Dr. Edmund Harrison.

It is very rarely that one gets the opportunity to hear a speaker of Mr. White's power. A man of fine physique, he has a commanding presence. He is a real orator, his eloquence being the best and most moving kind of all, the eloquence of intense earnestness and conviction.

He began his address by showing that there is but one adequate religion and that is the Christian religion. His comparison of the Christian religion with the Mohammedan, Hindu and Buddhist religion was masterly.

The platform of the Laymen's Movement—the evangelization of the world in this generation—was explained by the speaker. This did not mean, he said, the conversion of the world, but the giving of every person in the world a chance to accept Jesus as his savior. It was no chimerical scheme, he declared. He cited the instance of missionaries in India saying that if their number were quadrupled they could reach all of India in this generation and similarly that it would only be necessary to treble the number of missionaries in China.

Now was the time to act—not one of the millions in darkness could afford to wait.

Greensboro had done nobly, he said, better in fact than any other city, other things being equal and he congratulated this city, but there should be no spirit of self-satisfaction. This city had pledged $20,000 to foreign missions. It was giving $100,000 to other benevolences. He said he thought that one fourth of everything given should go to foreign missions.

Mr. White was a lay missionary in India from Ohio for ten years, but came to the conclusion, that he could be more effective in America.

He made a deep impression. At times he is dramatic and at all times when he is speaking, his audience listens with the intensest which ability and fervor combined with oratorical gifts of a high order invariably command.

MOTHER OF JUDGE BYNUM DIES AT GERMANTON

Was In Her Eighty Fourth Year and Had Been In Feeble Health For Some Time.

A telegram received yesterday by ex-Judge W. P. Bynum, Jr., brought news of the death, yesterday morning at her home in Germantown, of his mother, Mrs. Charity H. Bynum, widow of the late B. F. Bynum.

For a number of years Mrs. Bynum had made her home with her son, Dr. W. H. Bynum at Germantown. She had been in feeble health for some time, so that her death was not unexpected. She is survived by four children—Judge Bynum, of Greensboro, Dr. Bynum, of Germantown, B. F. Bynum and Mrs. J. L. Hill, the latter of Elon College. She was in her 84th year.

CASES IN WAKE SUPERIOR COURT

Six Months' Sentence For Abandonment.

J. M. Burton Goes To Roads For Leaving Family—Tom Carr Gets Ten Years For Killing His Sister—Argument In Remarkable Case In State Supreme Court In Which Man Sues Railroad For Being Put Off After Having Tendered Mileage Book.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 4.—Judge Cook, in Wake Superior Court this morning gave J. Mitchell Bruton six months on the county roads for abandoning his wife. He was brought here Sunday from Chesterfield, S. C., to answer this charge. He was for some time a conductor on the Raleigh street cars. He pleaded today that he did not abandon his wife, but went away seeking employment. Furthermore that he wrote her to come to him with the family and he never received an answer to his letter. He told the judge that he was married to this woman when he was 18 and she 37 years old; that they had three children and that she had one daughter fifteen years old when he married her. The wife denied the difference in their ages, charging that Bruton is at least ten years older than he claims to be. There was evidence that he had left his family without support several times before, this being the special reason the judge had for giving him the road sentence.

Judge Cooke sentenced Tom Carr to ten years in the penitentiary for killing his sister at their home several miles in the country. Carr pleaded that he was playing with his sister at the time and did not intend to kill her.

There was argument in the Supreme Court today in a notable appeal in which Thomas Harvey, a traveling man, is the plaintiff against the Atlantic Coast Line involving a judgment in the Wayne county court in Harvey's favor for having been put off the train between Wilson and Goldsboro because he would not pay cash fare when he had repeatedly tendered his mileage book at the Wilson office for ticket, the agent being too busy to attend to the matter each time. Harvey insisted that the conductor must pull the mileage for the transportation. The jury had rendered a verdict for $5,000 and the judge cut this to $2,500, and still the railroad company appealed. W. C. Monroe represents the railroad company and Aycock & Winston, W. T. Dorch and L. R. Varner the plaintiff.

The secretary of State charters the Waxhaw Furniture Co., capital $6,000 by C. S. Murray and others for making and selling furniture of all kinds.

For the Eastern North Carolina district for the collection of internal revenue the records of the collector's office here show $278,622 collections from all sources for Uncle Sam's treasury.

The statement is made that the assistant marshals for the North Carolina State Fair, October 17 to 22, will be announced within the next few days and that the list will include many of the most prominent young men in every section of the State. The list is being made up by Chief Marshal E. B. Lyon, who with Mrs. Lyon, has just held a conference with Col. Joseph E. Pogue, secretary of the State fair. The social side of the fair promises to be exceptionally attractive.

Rev. Melton Clark To Lecture.

The pastor, Rev. Melton Clark, will lecture on his trip abroad at the Smith Memorial building Friday night at 8 o'clock. A feature of the lecture will be stereopticon slides showing the Passion Play as seen by Rev. Mr. Clark at Ober Ammergau. There will be no admission fee and a cordial invitation is extended the public to attend. The Telegram is requested to state that no collection will be taken.

Big Auction Sale of Lots In Charlotte.

Messrs. D. A. and Arthur Bodenhamer Monday in Charlotte auctioned the Oates property selling $64,535 worth of lots. They state that this is the biggest auction sale of real estate ever held in the State.

The Enterpe Club will meet next Saturday afternoon, Oct. 8, at four o'clock in Miss Woodall's studio. This is the first study meeting of the year. An interesting program is being prepared and all members are urged to be present.

DIABETES

From late figures the hope of recovery under the new emollient treatment seems to be about as follows:

In people of sixty and over results are quite uniform, probably nine-tenths recovering. While at fifty and over a large majority of all cases yield to the treatment, below fifty and approaching forty the disease gets more stubborn, and between thirty and forty the percentage is not high—probably not much over half yielding.

Under thirty the percentage is less and in children recoveries have been very few and most of those were obtained with the aid of skilled physicians forcing nutrition, with alkaline treatment to prevent formation of acetones. The new emollient treatment is known as Fulton's Diabetic Compound. It can be had in Greensboro at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

We desire every patient to write us who is not noting the usual improvement by the third week. Always state age. Literature mailed free. Jno. J. Fulton Co., 645 Battery street, San Francisco, Cal. We invite correspondence with physicians who have obstinate cases.

THE POWER OF STEAM.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam causing the kettle lid to jump up and down he said "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

There was millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery.

Recent scientific research has put its finger on the "cause" of Watt's discovery. It is a tiny germ which enters the life from the roots of human hair. Newbro's Herpicide destroys this germ and consequently restores the hair to its natural state.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.

Well Known Citizen of High Point Instantly Killed While Trying to Extract a Cartridge From an Old Pistol.

A most distressing accident occurred here early this morning by which Col. D. F. Maddox, a well known citizen lost his life. For a day or two it seems that he has in his odd moments been trying to extract a cartridge from a pistol that he had at his house, using a knife without effect. This morning he took the pistol, a bottle of wood alcohol and a small iron rod and went out on the porch to begin work again on the pistol. He was working on the pistol about 9 o'clock when his wife went to the door and cautioned him about working with it. She had not more than gotten in the door when she heard the report of the pistol and rushing out found Col. Maddox lying on the front porch, having fallen forward on his face out of a rocking chair in which he was sitting, with a profusion of blood flowing from his mouth. He died in a very short time after he was shot. The ball entered at the pit of the stomach, severing the descending aorta artery, causing instant death.

The accident caused great excitement in the neighborhood which spread rapidly over the community. Drs Stanton and Grayson were soon on the scene and made a cursory examination and found that death had been instantaneous. At first, on account of the hemorrhage from the mouth, the physicians thought that the bullet had entered the mouth, but after the body was removed to Undertaker Sechrest's establishment for thorough examination, it was found that the wound had been made in the stomach.

Deceased was born in Virginia and came to this city from Front Royal, Va., about 8 years ago. He was 62 years old at the time of his death. He was thrice married and leaves a wife and eight children, Mrs. J. T. Best, Mrs. A. P. Staley and Edgar, residing in High Point, and Dan and Houston Maddox, students at Trinity College; Carley Maddox, of Athens, Ga.; Mrs. E. E. Eanes, of Birmingham, Ala., and Giles Maddox, Front Royal, Va.

The body has been embalmed and will be taken to Front Royal, Va., probably tomorrow. During Col. Maddox's residence in High Point he has made many friends, all of whom as well as the people generally sympathize with the family on account of the distressing accident.

FEMININE IDLENESS.

Every Girl Should Have Employment to Make Her Independent.

Robert Haven Schuchter, in Success Magazine.

Every girl should work consistently and seriously at something. Merely to hang around, living on the family, with all her thoughts centered on dress and pleasure and "the not-impossible he," is ruinous to her character and her chances of married happiness. She is apt to grow morbid and cynical and then to marry too hastily, on too low a plane and from a too narrow circle. And she seldom realizes that her idleness is a fruitful source of depravity in the men of her acquaintance and thus still further reduce her chances of finding a desirable father for her children.

"If idleness be the root of all evil," quoth Sir John Vanbrugh, "then matrimony is good for something, for it sets many a poor woman to work." In our day of specialized servants and housekeepers, however, not even marriage can be counted on to perform this kindly office for her. The society girl is fortunate, indeed, who can find a congenial occupation that will make her economically independent.

Then she will find her reward both from without and within. She will fit herself in character and capacity to be a happy wife and a successful mother. For the supreme guarantee that a girl will find the right mate is to have high ideals embodied in her own character. Take will find like.

And though by working she may slightly lessen her actual mathematical chances of marriage, she will without doubt—whether she marries or not—vastly increase her human dignity and usefulness and happiness.

Two Short Words.

"The best," well describes the satisfaction every user feels when he tries Vick's Croup and Pneumonia Salve for his head or chest cold, or his croupy child. It is a comfort, a cure and a joy. Try a jar and get your money back if not pleased.

"Are you married or unmarried?" asked the cross-questioning lawyer. "Unmarried, several times," replied the female witness from Chicago.

Improved Schedule on Richmond Division of Southern Railway.

Effective Sunday, October 2, train No. 8 for Richmond will leave Danville at 9:15 a. m.; arrive Richmond 2 p. m. instead of leaving Danville at 10:50 a. m. arriving Richmond at 4:10 p. m. Train No. 14 will also be changed to leave Danville at 3:05 p. m. Arrive Richmond 8:05 p. m. instead of leaving Danville at 4:30 p. m. arriving Richmond at 9:30 p. m. These figures of the new schedules are only approximate, but are practically correct, and it will be noted that the time from Greensboro to Richmond is very much quickened with this improved service.

THE PONY EXPRESS.

Fearless Riders and the Dangers and Hardships They Faced.

Perhaps the most picturesque figure on the old trail was the pony express rider. The overland stage proved too slow for mail and express in its flight from the Missouri and the Pacific. True, it had cut down the months of the old ox team to twenty-five days, and still there was a clamor that the east and west be brought closer together, and it was done. The pony cut the time to ten days.

Those who were personally acquainted with the famous pony express of those days could never forget the intrepid rider who braved all peril, forgetful of self, intent only on the speedy delivery of his precious mail. Hard and fast he rode over mountain and plain, across scorching desert and fly snow, through sunshine and rain, past friend, away from foe, to the final achievement—the safe delivery of his charge.

Forty fearless horsemen in saddle riding west, as many more riding east—and this novel but useful enterprise was in motion. For two years the pony express carried messages of business and love across 2,000 miles of western mountains and plains, over a country peopled with a hostile race, destitute of cultivation or development, through a region wild, desolate and little known.

It was in 1859 that the pony express was established. The route, briefly stated, was due west from St. Joseph to Fort Kearney, up the Platte to Julesburg, thence, by Fort Laramie and Fort Bridger, to Salt Lake City, thence to Camp Floyd, Ruby valley, the Humboldt, Carson City, Placerville and Folsom, to Sacramento and San Francisco by boat.

The intention of the pony express was to carry letters only and not more than ten pounds at a trip. It was decided that the safest and easiest mode of carrying the mail was to make four pockets, one in each corner of the mochila, a covering made of heavy leather for the saddles and generally used by the expert Mexican and Spanish riders. The mochila was transferred from pony to pony and went through from St. Joseph to San Francisco, the pockets containing the mail being locked and opened only at military posts en route and at Salt Lake City. These precious letters were wrapped in oiled silk to protect them, but even this precaution sometimes failed. Rivers had to be crossed; horse and rider swam together.—W. C. Jenkins in National Magazine.

Grew Too Tall.

"I recall a case of genuine bone-headedness, mixed with enthusiasm, that cost a great many people a bunch of money," said an oil operator. "It was during the time when a big strike meant a drop in the price of oil. The foreman of a drill crew had been instructed by the employers to use a code in the event of oil being found. If it was a big flow he was to wire, 'Pine trees grow tall.' If, on the other hand, the flow was small, 'Pine trees grow small,' was to be the code message. The drill struck a gusher, and the following message was sent by the ivory topped individual: 'Pine trees grow tall as hell, and she is flowing all over the derrick!' Of course there were a number of men about the exchange who could understand telegraphy, and the consequence was that the price of oil dropped about $2 a barrel in a few minutes."—Louisville Times.

Intoxicated by Tobacco.

Giving evidence against a man on a charge of disorderly conduct at Bow street police court, a constable said that the accused behaved in a very violent and disorderly manner in Leicester square on Tuesday evening. He quarreled with a cabman, and eventually the witness took him into custody, believing him to be drunk. At the police station the prisoner denied that he had been drinking, and the doctor who examined him reported that he had chewed tobacco to such an extent that it had had the same effect upon him as alcohol.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Real Laziness.

The Little Russians—those of the south—are said to be cleverer than the Russians of the north, but they are lazy—just how lazy may be gathered from this quotation from Mr. Maurice Baring's book, "Russian Essays and Stories."

"The Little Russian," said a Little Russian gentleman to me, "is so lazy that he will say to his wife, 'Little wife, say whoa to my horse. I have a pain in my tongue.'"

Progressive.

"When did you commit your first fatal extravagance?"
"When my boss referred to my wages as my 'salary.'"

"And when did you perpetrate this latest folly?"

"The day my wife called my salary my 'income.'"—Cleveland Leader.

Not Worth While.

"I notice that you usually tell the truth."

"Yes; I found that telling lies gets you into almost as much trouble."—Kansas City Journal.

The Feminine Pessimist.

The feminine pessimist worries because she is not as young as she once was; the optimist of the same sex rejoices that she is not so old as she will be.—Life.

Prohibition Republicans and anti-prohibition Republicans are still as far apart as the poles on the construction of that local self-government plank.

There is no wonder the Laymen's Movement has taken on great proportions when it is known that behind it is a man of the power of J. Campbell White.

Judge Ewart says he won't abuse Marion Butler even if he does despise him. We suspect that the ex-Senator would prefer being abused to being talked about in that fashion.

Dr. Fred Cook avers that he can "come back." The New York World unearthed him in London Saturday and Cook declared that he could and would demonstrate that he found the North pole.

Too bad that the Colonel's Southern trip will not bring him through Greensboro. He was through here several years ago, but the town has grown since then and he should certainly see it now.

Gifford Pinchot says he is an insurgent and is glad of it. But he hasn't been put to the test of having to draw a platform for a Republican State convention in New York.

Sad as was the loss of life when the Los Angeles Times was blown up, the thought inevitably suggests itself that the enemies of the Times must be noting with regret the great advertising they were instrumental in giving the paper.

Winston has been rejoicing over a new railroad, the Southbound, but we note that the new road is to be operated by an old system, the Atlantic Coast Line. So Winston seems to be about where she was when she started the agitation for a new road. The old systems gobble up budding roads merely, it appears, as a matter of course. There's a railroad trust all right.

Monday at Trinity College gifts from the Dukes to that institution were announced, running the total of the Duke benefactions to Trinity to something like a million and a half. Of the $150,000 receipt of which was announced Monday J. B. and B. N. Duke gave $30,000 between them for current expenses while B. N. Duke gave individually $100,000 for the erection of two buildings.

The State Federation of Labor in session this week in Asheville adopted strong resolutions denouncing the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times and condemning the Associated Press for insinuating that organized labor was responsible for the outrage. That organized labor as such would favor fighting the open shop by the use of dynamite is unthinkable. Anarchists, not the labor people, are the ones who believe in throwing bombs and infernal machines.

Dr. Faison is a rapid, aggressive talker. The Democrats in Duplin, themselves aggressive, were greatly enthused by the discussion and now say that his majority in the country will be a material increase over that given the Congressional nominee two years ago.

Thus wrote a News and Observer staff representative describing a joint debate Monday between George Butler and J. M. Faison, Republican and Democratic candidates for Congress in the Third district. "Rapid and aggressive" is a good description of Dr. Faison, as all will say who have heard him. He is a man of intense convictions and what he believes he believes with all his soul. There is hardly any doubt, we think, that he will be elected to Congress and when he goes there he will be felt. He has the qualities of leadership and will be a commanding figure in the House.

REINDEX JUDGMENT DOCKET.

County Commissioners Let Contract For This Work Yesterday—Road Matters.

At yesterday's session of the County Commissioners the contract for reindexing the judgment docket in the clerk's office was let to Jos. B. Thorpe, representing Walker-Evans & Cogswell, of Charleston. This work will begin at once and when completed will add considerably to the convenience of those who use the docket.

The major portion of yesterday was taken up in the consideration of road matters, several petitions being granted for roads and a number of petitions going over until the next meeting according to law. It was ordered that notice be served on the property owners on Haw River to drain the stream from Mr. Odell's in accordance with the drainage act.

Petitions were received for a road in Sumner and Fentress townships running from the Greensboro and Asheboro road to the public road near Mrs. Emma Coletraine's; a road in Clay from Mr. C. H. Coble's to the Greensboro road near May Hanner's; a road in Fentress and Clay running from W. D. Shaw's mail box on the Climax and Monnett road to the Climax & Tabernacle road; for changing the road in Fentress running from W. M. Fentress' to the Greensboro and Asheboro road. These were ordered advertised.

It was ordered that the McConnell road be widened and macadamized from the McConnell bridge to the city limits, provided the property owners furnish the gravel.

Mr. L. R. Noah was ordered to drain Horse Pen creek and to make a detailed statement as to the cost of drainage across the property of each person in order that the board could know how to assess the charges.

Roads were granted and ordered opened as follows: Road in Jefferson running from the Young Mill road to the McConnell road; Road in Fentress running from C. E. Hockett's to the Climax and Pleasant Garden road; road in Morehead from South Elm extended to the public road near Mr. W. C. Tucker's; road in Fentress from Dr. Coble's to the Climax and Greensboro road.

HOW THE REPUDIATED BONDS WERE ISSUED

Behind Mr. Butler's campaign for the capture of the next Legislature is believed to be the deep-laid purpose of the New York holders of repudiated bonds of North Carolina to force their payment at this late day. Indeed, a committee of these bondholders has written an insolent letter to the people of North Carolina, threatening that if they are not paid, the State's credit will be attacked and ruined by them and their allies. This letter, written by one Andrews, was replied to by Capt. S. A. Ashe recently, who gives the history of these bonds and shows how the robbers did their work. A full history of the events will be sent any one who will write to Democratic headquarters at Raleigh—State Democratic Headquarters.

DIFFERENT POINTS OF VIEW

McNinch in the 9th, Meares in the 6th, Cooley in the 4th, and Parker in the 7th, all sore-toe Democrats, now running for Congress as Republicans, are telling the people that the Payne-Aldrich bill is the best that was ever enacted.

Theodore Roosevelt says it was a crooked deal.

Senator Dolliver, Republican, says it was written by the interests, even down to the punctuation.

President Taft said it was the best, but has changed his mind and says Congress must try again.

There is some difference of opinion on that bill—State Democratic Headquarters.

Mr. Blackburn Returns to Oklahoma.

Boone Democrat. Ex-Congressman Blackburn, who has spent the most of the summer with relatives and friends in Watauga, left last week for his home at Tulsa, Oklahoma, where he will take an active part in the remaining weeks of the campaign.

CAPTURE OF STONY POINT

Maj. Morehead Enlightens Fair Management As To the Most Daring and Heroic Assault of Revolutionary War.

Editor Telegram:—

In answer to request by the Central Carolina Fair I would state that the most daring and heroic assault and capture made upon a fortified post by the Americans during the Revolutionary War was that of Stony Point on the Hudson so far as I know. Bancroft says it was the most heroic of the war. In his history will be found a full account. Headley's "Washington And His Generals" also gives a full account and has a picture of "Mad Anthony Wayne," our commander. Both of these books can be found in the Greensboro Carnegie Library. Maj. John Daves, of North Carolina, who now sleeps at Guilford Battle Ground, and Peter Francisco, to whom a noble tablet was dedicated there on the last Fourth of July, were in this engagement.

JOS. M. MOREHEAD.

Mr. Worth Chairman.

The Republican Judicial Executive committee of the Ninth district met yesterday afternoon for the purpose of electing a manager for Nominee C. C. Frazier and discussing the campaign. Mr. H. B. Worth was selected as chairman. No schedule was fixed for speaking. However, it is understood that Mr. Frazier will make about two speeches in each county in the district.

The Postage Stamp.

Consider the postage stamp. It says nothing regarding the difficulty of the task assigned to it, but by dint of close application it usually gets there; also it delivers the goods.

Again, if one isn't enough to carry the thing through, two or more by working harmoniously together see the thing to a finish.

No matter if the (mail) matter be weighty, it puts a good face (of Washington) on it and goes directly to the point. It gets licked and stamped upon, and even besmirch its fair features and oftentimes give it more to carry than the (postal) union allows. But, in spite of all this, it sticks unflinchingly to the matter in hand by virtue of the fact that it knows that it has good backing.

Its stick-to-it-ivity is worthy of emulation by you.—Judge's Library.

Water Colors.

Water color painting was gradually raised from the hard, dry style of the eighteenth century to its present brilliancy by the efforts of Nicholson, Copley, Sauley and others. The Water Color society's exhibitions began in 1806 and may be said to mark the real beginning of modern water color painting. The great master, if not creator, of the art was the celebrated Turner, of whom we read so much in the works of John Ruskin.—Exchange.

How Old They Were.

"I see you employ a number of old men."

The subjoined item appeared in a French newspaper:

"There was found in the river this morning the body of a soldier cut to pieces and sewed up in a sack. The circumstances seem to preclude any suspicion of suicide."

Customs and Habits.

Our customs and habits are like the ruts in roads. The wheels of life set into them, and we jog along through the mire because it is too much trouble to get out of them.

HEALTH AND SANITATION

This The Subject of First Meeting of County Teachers Association—Health Bulletins to Teachers.

County Superintendent Foust is sending the following letter to school teachers of the county:

To the White Teachers of Guilford County:

I am mailing you copies of the bulletins. Health Talks for Public Schools and Hook Worm Disease. I have enough of the Health Talks for the teachers only, but I have some of the Hook Worm Disease bulletins for distribution among the scholars and patrons of the school, though there are not enough to distribute to all. If you will indicate to me the number that you can use to advantage, they will be sent to you. In deciding how many you want, please be rather careful in your estimate so that the limited supply which I now have will be used to the greatest advantage in the county.

As you know, during the session of the institute it was decided that our first meeting of the Association will be devoted to health and sanitation. Each teacher is expected to get Ritchie's "Primer of Sanitation," published by the World Book Company, Yonkers, N. Y., and read it carefully before the meeting. The price of the book is 49c.

and it will be cheaper for each teacher to order it direct than to order it in bulk and then to have to pay postage for distribution. As the entire time of the Association on the second Saturday in November will be taken up with a discussion on health and sanitation, I feel quite sure that we can accomplish something definite, and be in a position to render greater service to the county along that line, and it is a duty that we owe to the people.

Miss Barnes, who took the subscriptions to North Carolina Education during the institute, tells me that only twenty-seven subscribed. You know that we get a club rate of 50c per copy, and if you will send 50c to North Carolina Education, Raleigh, N. C., stating in your letter that you wish your name added to the Guilford County club list, it will be so entered, and your 50c will pay a year's subscription. If you prefer that I send in your name, and then pay me the 50c at the November meeting of the Teachers' Association, I shall be glad to do this. If you want to order it this way, please write me at once so you will get the paper without missing any of the issues.

Please do not hesitate to call on me whenever I can serve you, in any way, and with best wishes for a successful school year, I am,

THE STATEMENT WAS MISLEADING

Account of Certain Damage Suit As It Appeared in the State Press Was Inaccurate, According To Mr. Van Noppen—An Account of the Case By Him.

Editor Telegram:

There appeared in the State press a week ago an account of a $300,000 damage suit—the statements in which were somewhat misleading. Therefore, I submit the following account as an accurate statement covering the basic features of the situation.

Two years ago this fall Mr. Chas. L. Van Noppen, F. S. Westbrook and R. W. Westbrook organized the Southern Light Improvement Co., with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga. As the basis for this company they had secured the exclusive control of a patented line of electric light fixtures, called Tungstoliers, the products of the largest fixture trust organization in the country.

The contract secured by the Southern Light Improvement Co. was for the exclusive control of eight Southern States for a period of five years. This contract was secured on the basis that a minimum sale of goods be guaranteed in specified periods of time. This guarantee was signed by three Durham gentlemen, Messrs. R. G. Farthing, T. S. Christian and R. O. Everett.

The Southern Light Improvement Company began an active campaign for business and the result of their efforts was more than gratifying—they had sold more goods than they were required to guarantee—they met all their obligations promptly and were subdividing their territory among local dealers—in fact, giving exclusive control of districts to agencies based on their own exclusive contract. In fact, their progress was such that they had a net profit of several thousand dollars per month, and everything seemed satisfactory when the Southern Light Improvement Co. discovered that the Tungstolier Company was shipping their goods into the Southern States through indirect routes, thus jeopardizing the business and agency contracts made by the Southern Light Improvement Company, as well as their course being in direct violation of the contract made by them with the Southern Light Improvement Co. Thus the situation quickly got into the courts and is to be tried in the Federal court in Raleigh this fall. The attorneys for the Southern Light Improvement Company are Messrs. Anderson, Felder, Rountree and Wilson, one of the largest legal firms in Atlanta; R. O. Everett, of Durham, and Jas. H. Pou and the firm of Aycock & Winston, of Raleigh. These attorneys in reviewing the evidence said they never saw a more flagrant breach of contract on the part of a principal, and they feel that even $300,000 damages is not in excess of a just compensation for the profits that were being realized on the progress of the Southern Light Improvement Company in its first six months of business.

So in conclusion, it might be well to emphasize that there is no Durham Company, nor have any Durham people lost any money through their connection with the Southern Light Improvement Company.

SOCIETY WOMEN EAT WITH

COWS IN ELGIN STABLE. Calves Play About and One, a Pet, Sleeps on Table Where Meat Is Served.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Chicago society and club women were guests at an elaborate luncheon served in the cow stables on Arthur Gulick's farm, near Elgin. A few feet away from the gorgeously decorated tables stood fifty cows, eating their meal of bran and ensilage.

When the visitors reached the factory, shortly after 3 o'clock, the big plant was in full operation. The mysterious vacuum pans were in action, converting fresh milk into the condensed product. Every detail of manufacturing condensed milk and of handling liquid milk was shown the women.

At the luncheon in the stables calves played about. A pet calf went to sleep in the middle of the beautifully decorated table and continued its slumber throughout the meal. After luncheon the guests had an opportunity to milk the cows. Several demonstrated that they had not forgotten their days on the farm.

WHISKEY PRESCRIPTIONS.

Less Than Six Hundred Issued by Physicians During September.

The monthly report of Chief of Police Neelley shows that only 589 prescriptions for whiskey and beer were written during the month of September, a decided decrease from the preceding month. Fifty-one of the prescriptions were for beer, the total amount of this beverage prescribed being 520 bottles. There were 538 pints of whiskey prescribed.

The largest amount prescribed by a single physician was 40 pints, divided among 34 prescriptions. Only seven physicians prescribed as much as 25 pints during the month.

Death of a Teacher At the Rescue Home.

Miss Armita Shiveley, a teacher in the Rescue Home, died yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at that institution. Her remains were sent away last night for interment at her home, Grover Hill, Ohio. Her father, who was called here from Ohio by his daughter's illness, left here last night accompanying the remains.

HOW TO GET FAT.

Use Samose, Says Druggist Gardner and Put on Good Flesh.

The almost universal interest in physical culture is the best evidence that can be offered as to the need of a simple and scientific method of making thin people fat, increasing strength and restoring health.

Athletics, when carried to an extreme, often results in straining the vital organs. How much better it would be for the average person to regain health, strength and flesh by using Samose. This flesh-forming food is assimilated as soon as it enters the stomach; it helps the organs to assimilate the food and extract the flesh-forming elements; it builds up the muscles and rounds out the limbs into shapely plumpness.

Samose has been so successful in making thin people fat and restoring the weak and run-down to strength and health that Howard Gardner, the popular druggist, sells it under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not benefit.

Notice To Local Contractors.

Plans and specifications for the Young Men's Christian Association building, to be erected on corner of Greene and Sycamore streets, will be on file Tuesday morning, Oct. 4, 1910, at the office of Weston & von Knapke, Architects, at the office of the chairman of building committee, and at the North Carolina Builders' Exchange, for local contractors, to make up proposals for the erection of the building. Full particulars are given in specifications.

THE STEEPLE JACK.

He Must Conquer Many Difficulties In His Dangerous Work.

The successful steeple jack must possess determination, perseverance and ingenuity. He must solve many a practical problem in hoisting great bodies aloft. He must know how to fasten a hook over the summit of a skyscraping chimney. He must have the nerve to paint a steeple that sways like a pendulum at the slender top. He must be able to tear down, build up, gild, paint, place electric wires and do many another task that would be difficult enough on the solid earth.

There are many ways of getting up on a steeple, and when all others fail the man will tie a rope around it and then, with a coil on his back, walk round and round it until the entire steeple is covered with rope, and in such case he has probably been round it fully 300 times.

But a steeple is not the most difficult height to climb. Straight, tall chimneys are the hardest of all. There a man has to work with might and main to lift himself inch by inch from the ground to the top. Sometimes the top is 300 feet high. When it is reached a hook is made fast, the swinging chair is hauled up and work begins.

When the chair is near the top it is easier to work, because the ropes are short, but when they lengthen as the ground is approached there is a tendency to swing, and the wind gives impetus.

The steeple jack's safety depends upon the hook, and until he has raised himself almost to the top it is impossible for him to see whether or not the hook has been properly adjusted. More than once a steeple climber has seen when within ten feet of the top that corrosion of the iron and the collection of soot have so thickened the wall that the hook is merely balancing on the top, so that the slightest pull in the wrong direction would drag it off. Again, the bricks are often loose at the top, and the hook is likely to tear them away.

One of the natural difficulties to conquer is the swaying of all high steeples and chimneys. In a gale a steeple point will sway a foot and a half. Usually it sways from seven to nine inches. Painting it means reaching for a spot on the right side, and finding it on the left, and when making a dive for it on the left, to see it sway back to the right. Yet in spite of the constant danger a born steeple jack exults in his work and is at home, like the ironworker on the skyscraper, only when high above the world. He can stand triumphantly at any height, if he can have two and one-half square inches to bear his weight—Harper's Weekly.

Capt. Bogardus Again Hits the Bull's Eye.

This world famous rifle shot who holds the championship record of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says: "I suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and used several medicines, all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley Kidney Pills I had severe backaches and pains in my kidneys with suppression and a cloudy voiding. On arising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and again feel like my own self." Sold by Howard Gardner.

If you are looking for white lies take a walk through the tombstones in any cemetery.

A Generous and Charitable Wish.

"I wish all might know of the benefit I received from your Foley's Kidney Remedy," says I. N. Regan, Farmer, Mo. His kidneys and bladder gave him so much pain, misery and annoyance, he could not work nor sleep. He says Foley's Kidney Remedy completely cured him. Sold by Howard Gardner.

Why Suffer?

Are you one of the thousands of women who suffer from female ailments? If so, don't be discouraged, go to your druggist and get a bottle of Wine of Cardui. On the wrapper are full directions for use.

During the last half century, Cardui has been established in thousands of homes, as a safe remedy for pain which only women endure. It is reliable, contains no harmful ingredients and can be depended on in almost any case.

Take CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. Charles Bragg, of Sweetser, Ind., tried Cardui. She writes: "Tongue cannot tell how much Cardui has done for me. Before I began taking Cardui I could not do a day's work. I would work awhile and lie down. I shall always give praise to your medicine." Try Cardui.

A WOMAN'S HANDBAG A MAN'S POCKETS

Philadelphia Record.

One hears much about the contents of the usual small boys' pockets and what is to be found in the purse or handbag of the average woman, but it is probable that an examination of the collection that might be taken from the pockets of an ordinary man would be interesting. Out in Germantown the other night a young man delved into the handbag of a young woman in a house where they both were guests. He had commented facetiously as he pulled out bits of lace, samples of dress goods, buttons, pennies and what-not, until finally he was dared to exhibit the contents of his pocket under agreement that if he did not have a more varied assortment of trifles concealed about his person than did the young woman he would be treated to a good supper. If his pockets turned out more than was found in the young woman's handbag he was to buy theatre tickets for three. He played fair and turned out all his pockets. This is what they contained: One chain and keyring, to which there was attached seven keys; one pocket knife, one fountain pen, nail clipper, two five dollar notes, one ten, one fifty-cent piece, a quarter and ten pennies; a wallet containing one railroad pass, a poll tax receipt, three receipted bills, a poem on "Love," four personal cards of friends, two business cards and a slip of paper containing half a dozen telephone numbers. From various other places he dug up a couple of theatre seat checks, two old coins, five letters addressed to himself and one ready to be mailed to a friend, a memorandum, spectacle case, nail file, watch, match box, cigarette case, pair of gloves, two handkerchiefs and two cigars. The young woman was going to the theatre with him on Tuesday night.

Heard of Bluebeard?

Of course you have—the old legendary fellow that had so many wives and treated them so dreadfully?

Well, there's another "Bluebeard"—one made famous by Helen Ware in the military drama, "The Deserters" now playing at the Hudson Theatre in New York City. This "Mr. Bluebeard" is a song and the song is a "dandy." The words are great and the music has a "swing" that makes the listener feel he has heard "real music."

By special arrangement the words and score of "Mr. Bluebeard" will go forth as a free feature of next Sunday's New York World. Order from your news-dealer in advance.

A THRILLING RIDE.

The Piano Run a Frenchman Gave a Locomotive Engineer.

"I was loitering around the streets last night," said Jim Nelson, one of the old locomotive engineers running into New Orleans. "As I had nothing to do I dropped into a concert and heard a sleek looking Frenchman play a piano in a way that made me feel all over in spots. As soon as he sat down on the stool I knew by the way he handled himself that he understood the machine he was running. He tapped the keys away up one end, just as if they were gauges and he wanted to see if he had water enough. Then he looked up as if he wanted to know how much steam he was carrying, and the next moment he pulled open the throttle and sailed on to the main line as if he was half an hour late. You could hear her thunder over culverts and bridges and getting faster and faster, until the fellow rocked about in his seat like a cradle. Somehow I thought it was old 36 pulling a passenger train and getting out of the way of a special. The fellow worked the keys on the middle division like lightning, and then he flew along the north end of the line until the drivers went around like a buzz saw and I got excited. About the time I was fixing to tell him to cut her off a little he kicked the dampers under the machine wide open, pulled the throttle away back in the tender, and how he did run! I couldn't stand it any longer, and yelled to him that he was pounding in the left side, and if he wasn't careful he'd drop his ash pan. But he didn't hear. No one heard me. Everything was flying and whizzing. Telegraph poles on the side of the track looked like a row of cornstalks, and trees appeared to be a mudbank, and all the time the exhaust of the old machine sounded like the hum of a bumblebee. I tried to yell out, but my tongue wouldn't move. He went around the curves like a bullet, slipped an eccentric, blew out his soft plug—went down grades fifty feet to the mile and not a controlling brake set. She went by the meeting point at a mile and a half a minute, and calling for more steam. My hair stood up straight, because I knew the game was up. Sure enough, dead ahead of us was the headlight of a special. In a daze I heard the crash as they struck, and I saw cars shivered into atoms, people smashed and mangled and bleeding and gasping for water. I heard another crash as the French professor struck the deep keys away down on the lower end of the southern division, and then I came to my senses. There he was at a dead standstill, with the door of the firebox of the machine open, wiping the perspiration off his face and bowing to the people before him. If I live to be a thousand years old I'll never forget the ride that Frenchman gave me on a piano."

Weak Over-worked Women

Who are broken down and made invalids by the drudgery of never ending household cares and duties, or by over-frequent bearing and nursing of children, and many other cares, burdens and strains which the weaker sex have to bear, are deserving of profound sympathy. But while sympathy is commendable what these unfortunate women most need is a good, honest, square-deal Restorative Tonic and Strength-giving Nerve and Regulator—one compounded and carefully adapted to act in harmony with woman's peculiar, delicate, ever sensitive organization.

Who so well fitted to select, carefully proportion the ingredients and compound a remedy for the cure of these distressing and often pain-wracking weaknesses and derangements, as the carefully and thoroughly educated and regularly graduated physician who has had a long and successful experience in treating just this class of cases.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

THIS MEDICINE IS

THE ONE REMEDY Now, and for over 40 years, sold by druggists for Woman's Peculiar Weaknesses, and Distressing Ailments, gotten up by one having all of the above qualifications.

THE ONE REMEDY which absolutely contains neither alcohol (which to most Women is rank poison) nor injurious or habit-forming drugs.

THE ONE REMEDY which is so perfect in its composition and so good in its curative effects as to warrant its makers in printing its every ingredient, as they do, on its outside wrapper, verifying the same under solemn oath.

In all the above most important particulars, the "Favorite Prescription" stands absolutely alone—in a class all by itself—as woman's most reliable and trust-worthy remedy in time of sickness and distress. It is a pure glyceric extract made from American curative roots, found by long time experience most valuable in curing woman's weaknesses and derangements. The leaders in all schools of medical practice have endorsed each of its ingredients as of the best known remedies for the complicated affections for which it is recommended. These professional endorsements should count for far more than any number of lay testimonials. A booklet full of them sent free on receipt of name and address.

WORK OF CLEANING CITY IN PROGRESS

Great Quantities of Trash and Garbage Removed Yesterday—More Than Was Looked For.

The work of cleaning the city began in earnest yesterday morning when six trash wagons began their rounds of the streets of the city. Great quantities of trash and garbage were removed from the places visited yesterday, in fact there was a good deal more than was expected. Consequently the wagons did not traverse as many streets as was scheduled during the day. However, the wagons will gradually work towards the outskirts, taking the six wards street by street, including the cross streets, until all have been visited.

City Superintendent of Health Edmund Harrison was seen last night and he stated that the co-operation of the citizens was most encouraging; that nearly everybody was enthusiastic over the project and the residents were gathering up the trash and garbage and placing it in readiness for the wagons. "The cleaning up spirit has grasped the people as never before," he said, "and I feel sure that when the work is completed Greensboro will be a clean city as compared to what she was Monday morning. I could not hope for more hearty co-operation than was given by the residents on the streets we visited yesterday."

WIFE SAW THE KILLING

Ernest King, a Miner, Shot Thomas Riggs At Lost Creek.

Clarksburg, W. Va., Oct. 4.—In the presence of the wife of the slayed, Ernest King, aged 38, a coal miner, shot and instantly killed Thomas Riggs, 22 years old, late Sunday afternoon, in King's home, near Lost Creek, this county, with a single-barreled shotgun. King fled immediately and has not been caught.

A coroner's jury decided that King deliberately and willfully murdered Riggs, and a reward has been offered for him. The men had indulged in a "keg party" Sunday, which resulted in the murder.

Isler-Watlington Wedding Tonight.

One of the leading social events of the season will be the marriage this evening at 8 o'clock of Miss Hattie Jones Watlington, of this city, to Mr. Simmons Harrison Isler, of Kinston. The ceremony will take place in West Market Street Methodist church, which will be elaborately decorated. A number of delightful social affairs have been given in honor of Miss Watlington and her marriage will be of interest to a large number of people.

Large Attendance At A. & M. College.

During the month of September, 1909, eighty-two young men enrolled as students at the A. & M. College. For September of 1910, the corresponding period, 124 young men enrolled, representing an increase of 51 per cent. The increase will be considerably greater during the month of October. In fact the first day's report for October largely increased the figures above given.
